About 100 Italians, employed on paving and sewer contracts, were set upon by a mob of 400 to 500 men yesterday and driven from their work. The timely arrival of Mayor Walters was the only thing that prevented violence.

Part of the Italians were put to work unloading cars, but the mob followed them and again drove them off. The contractors declare that they will employ the Italians, and trouble is feared to-day.

Several hundred persons were vaccimated last night in a raid made by the special vaccimators of the Brooklyn Health Department under the direction of Chief Clerk Andrew O'Shea, of the Bureau of Contagious Disenses.

The locality covered by the physicians included Johnson avenue, Moore street, Ewen street and Humboldt street. The vaccimators, who are accompanied by 159 policemen, met with no opposition except in one house where an excited German woman threatened to brain Mr. O'Shea with a frying pan.

She was held down to the floor by a couple of policemen while the vaccine was applied. When the operation was concluded she semed chairined because she had made so much trouble.
